Johnson Predicts Rising Prosperity

Lifetime Security Bill Is $25,000

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — To a young man just starting out in life and expecting modest success, President Johnson's new proposals mean a lifetime Social Security tax bill of something like $25,000 — with a lot of ifs attached.

For his money, he could look forward to retirement benefits at 65 more than half again as high as at present — $279 monthly plus $140 for his wife, also, Medicare after retirement and increased benefits for his wife and children in case of his early death.

To compute what such a man would pay requires making several assumptions. The first is that Congress would enact the Johnson proposals and then make no further changes for the next 43 years — not a very realistic one. Congress several times has changed the benefit and tax structures in the 30 years since Social Security began.

Changes Built In Even if it did not do so again, the prospective changes built into present law plus the Johnson proposals would amount to eight variations during our hero's working life.

Assuming all this, assuming he starts out this year at 21 with a salary of $5,000 and is raised $1,000 a year until his pay catches up with the maximum Social Security coverage, here are his unofficially calculated prospects:

This year he pays $195 for basic Social Security and $25 for Medicare, $220 total.

By the next few years, his tax bill rises rather steeply. He is getting more pay — and has not yet hit the ceiling for the payroll tax — and, besides, there is a rate increase in 1969. In that year he pays $315 Social Security and $35 Medicare — $350 total. By 1971 the tap totals $445.

In 1974, the tax base goes to $10,800 and our hero is getting more pay than this. His Social Security bill is $340 and his Medicare contribution $39.40, a total of $379.40.

The Social Security component is now fixed for the rest of his working life, but there are three more fractional increases programmed in the Medicare rate, so that this factor reaches $86.40 in 1967, bringing the total combined bill for the rest of our man's working life to $626.40 a year.

By the time he retires, he will have paid $22,335 in Social Security tax plus $3,239.30 for Medicare, a total of $25,574.30.

Easier Credit, Less Inflation Are Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sends his annual economic report to Congress today, predicting rising prosperity with easier credit and less inflation this year.

Key findings of the report, third and last of the major required presidential messages to the new Congress, were disclosed in Johnson's budget message.

Johnson directed today that plans be prepared to avoid a recession that might otherwise follow "the welcome day of peace" in Vietnam.

The possibilities of quick tax reduction and spending speed-up will be studied by a Cabinet-level group, Johnson told Congress, as part of a "major and coordinated effort to review our readiness" for the war's end — a day still not foreseen, he emphasized.

The announcement came in his annual economic report. In it, Johnson forecast a moderate advance of the economy through 1967, if it can be steered past the hazards of inflation on the one side and recession on the other.

The outlook is for a $47-billion rise of national output, he said, to a record $787 billion — a slower climb than in 1966, but with smaller price rises, easier money, and continued almost-full employment.

Johnson renewed urgently his appeal to labor and industry for wage and price restraint, in continued voluntary support of guidelines policies, to avoid "a wage-price spiral which is in the interest of neither."

Unless both labor and management absorb part of their rising costs, he said "the result will be just such a spiral — damaging to business, damaging to labor, and disastrous to the nation."

But the surprise of the message, sent to the Capitol along with a report by the President's Council of Economic Advisers, was a section titled "After Vietnam."

Johnson said he was naming Gardner Ackley, economic council chairman, to take leadership of a postwar study group made up of the heads of the appropriate federal departments. Among other preparedness efforts, he said, Ackley's group will:

— Consider "possibilities and priorities for tax reduction."

— Determine which high-priority government programs can be expanded quickly.

— Prepare for a prompt easing of credit and expansion of money supply.

— Examine ways in which the transition to peace can be smoothed for the workers, companies and communities now engaged in supplying our defense needs, and the men released from our armed forces.

The message exuded economic optimism. "Prosperity is everywhere evident," said the President in forecasting a seventh year of unbroken growth.

The unemployment rate should stay close to the current 3.9 per cent, he predicted.

But the forecast of 1967 national output was conservative. It called for a 6.3 per cent rise compared to 8.5 per cent last year. When deflated for probable price increases, it shrank to 4 per cent.

Johnson said the stimulus of his $135-billion spending budget, tempered at midyear by the proposed 6 per cent income tax surcharge, provides the proper fiscal mix to keep the economy on the course of "sustainable expansion" — fast enough to prevent stalling, slow enough to avoid overheating.

The council's accompanying report forecast a price rise of about 2.5 per cent this year, compared with the 3.3 per cent of 1966 — which Johnson called intolerable.

Concerning interest rates, which zoomed to 40-year highs in 1966, choking off the supply of mortgage credit and sending the housing industry into a depression, Johnson said:

"The burden of tight money is

Auto Sales Slow Down; Detroit Reduces Output

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry faced up again today to the fact that the tempo of new car sales has slowed down. Production cuts were ordered.

General Motors and Chrysler reshuffled production schedules to slow down the number of new cars flowing into an already abundantly stocked market.

GM, giant of the auto makers, announced indefinite layoffs for 1,900 Chevrolet workers. It previously had given similar notices to 2,800 other GM workers.

Chrysler said three of its seven assembly plants would be closed for a week in February. A fourth will be idled for two weeks.

Slash Overtime American Motors, whose assembly lines resumed operation last Monday after a two-week shutdown, was building 1,100 cars a day in contrast to the 1,600 it averaged before the shutdown.

Ford Motor Co., in line with a policy laid down by its board chairman, Henry Ford II, effected its production cutbacks by eliminating some planned overtime and by putting one or two plants on a four-day work week at various intervals.

The juggling process has been under way since Nov. 18 when General Motors announced some staggered shutdowns for December and January.

AMC Belated American Motors announced Wednesday it had borrowed an additional $20 million to help increase its slackened auto sales. The bank loan was in addition to $75 million borrowed by the nation's fourth-largest auto firm.

The entire $95 million is still payable May 31, the date on which the first loan was to be paid.

Roy D. Chapin, who moved up to chairman of the board at AMC last month, said the action of the 24 banks who approved the increased loan was "an expression of confidence."

AMC finished the day as the most active stock on the New York Stock Exchange, advancing 1 1/4 to 8 1/2 on sales of 224,000 shares.

American Motors lost $12.6 million in fiscal 1966, as opposed to a profit of $5.2 million the year before.

Stocks Bailing The production cutbacks ordered Wednesday apparently were an industry recognition that dealer yards were bulging at the seams with unsold new cars. One source estimated this week that there were 1,355,100 new cars in dealer inventory as of Jan. 15. This was about $5,000 more than a year ago.

In industry sales terms, it meant that the cars in dealer hands or en route to them represented about a 58-day supply. A year ago, the dealers had a 45-day supply on hand.

Sales in the opening 20 days of the year totaled 361,389 cars, nearly 19 per cent behind last year's pace.

There was a general feeling in Detroit that the overtime which auto workers had come to accept as fairly common in the past three years would vanish for a while.

Suppliers Hurt In Michigan — where one job in six is connected with the auto business — it was felt the cutbacks could start a chain reaction that would be felt by many small factories.

One such result came Wednesday at Adrian, Mich., when Dura Corp. said its plant, which manufactures frames for auto convertible tops, would be closed within two months because of a 50 per cent drop in the need for such frames. About 300 workers would be jobless, the firm said.

On a national scale, General Motors' cutbacks could be felt by many of the 35,000 suppliers from whom it buys. GM said more than 77 per cent of them have fewer than 100 employees.

GM said 1,900 workers would be laid off at its Chevrolet plants at Willow Run and Flint, Mich., and Tarrytown, N.Y., reducing the work force at these plants to 14,300.

Hamtramck Hit The slash occurs Feb. 6 at Willow Run and a week later at the other two plants.

Chrysler's cutbacks affected 14,900 of its 95,000 hourly paid workers. Those at the Hamtramck, Mich., assembly plant took the hardest blow, a two-week shutdown in the Jan. 30 and Feb. 20 periods.

Detroit Lynch Road-Chrysler plant was scheduled to close for the week of Feb. 6 as was Los Angeles. The St. Louis, Mo., plant was listed for a shutdown the week of Feb. 13.

Chrysler said its February production would run about 94,800 cars, compared with 111,100 last year and the 106,000 listed to be built this month.

Hanoi Bombing Banned

Viet Cong Are Reported Short Of Fighting Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says the war in Vietnam is nearing a significant turning point: The Viet Cong are running out of volunteers in South Vietnam and may be forced to rely more on the North for future fighting men.

"We believe that any net increase in enemy troops during 1967 will have to come from North Vietnam," the defense chief told senators in testimony released Wednesday night. "The local supply of manpower is growing more limited with each succeeding year."

McNamara said the allied war efforts were so successful last year that "during the last half of 1966, the Viet Cong appear to have lost about as many men as they were able to infiltrate from North Vietnam and recruit in South Vietnam."

In other key developments: Washington sources revealed that the Johnson administration has barred all U.S. bombing flights within five miles of the center of Hanoi.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a gathering of ambassadors to Washington he hopes that "during the year 1967 we shall see peace in Southeast Asia."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee announced that Harrison E. Salisbury, a New York Times assistant managing editor who recently returned from Hanoi, will testify at hearings next week.

Atomic-Powered Merchant Ship Being Retired

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first atomic-powered merchant ship is going out of service after five profitless years.

The Savannah will be placed either in the reserve fleet or at Galveston, Tex., maintenance facilities, the Maritime Administration said.

The government paid more than $3 million a year in subsidies to keep the Savannah in operation. "Continued operation was not feasible against over-all financial needs of the country," said Deputy Maritime Administrator James W. Gulick.

ROSCOMMON (AP) — A public meeting will be held Feb. 13 to consider organizing a soil conservation district for Crawford and Roscommon counties. The State Soil Conservation Commission said formation of a new district would leave only Wayne and Oceana counties without a soil conservation district.

Possible bi-partisanship was

Income Tax

And, of the total introduced, only about 20 per cent are expected to see the light of day on Michigan's law books — passed by the Legislature and approved by the governor.

Included in bills introduced in the House and Senate were measures answering Gov. Romney's call for tax reform, state control of interstate highway routes, military reorganization, implied consent and food regulation.

Rep. Roy Spencer, R - Attica, introduced a package of tax bills calling for a 3 1/2 per cent personal income tax, a 6 1/2 per cent corporate income tax and an 8 1/2 per cent tax on financial institutions.

6000 Exemption Possible bi-partisanship was indicated by the fact that the income tax bill was cosponsored by Democrat George Montgomery of Detroit, chairman of last year's House Taxation Committee.

Bills introduced by Spencer propose a $600 personal income tax exemption for each dependent listed by the taxpayer on his federal income tax form.

His tax measures call for a 10 per cent property tax credit, a boost in the intangibles tax deduction from $20 to $100; and a three-cent hike in the cigarette tax.

Romney has called for tax reform to meet the increasing cost of state services. He is expected to present his own income tax proposal when he makes budget recommendations to the Legislature next week.

Drunk Driving Test A bill introduced by Rep. John Bennett, D - Redford, would amend the Michigan Vehicle Code to provide for so-called implied consent.

This would mean that a person who operates a motor vehicle on a public highway in Michigan is deemed to have given consent to chemical tests of his blood, breath or urine to determine alcoholic content of his blood.

It would permit police to order such tests of a suspected drunk driver and, if the driver refused, permit his refusal to be used against him in court.

A measure introduced by Rep. William Hayward, R-Royal Oak, would establish a highway location board consisting of the governor and the highway commission to make final decisions.

Shansi Resists Mao

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung's New China News Agency today reported resistance to Mao's purge by 10,000 workers in Shansi Province and called for the immediate arrest of all opponents of the Communist party chairman and his heir apparent, Defense Minister Lin Biao.

Mao's forces had claimed they seized control of Shansi, adjoining Peking, from supporters of President Liu Shao-chi on Jan. 12 with the help of army units. But the official news agency reported today that a few days ago the "despicable swine" who support Liu had thrown 10,000 workers against the Maoists.

Turmoil Continues "Some incidents even developed into struggles by force," the agency said, quoting a communique from pro-Mao "rebels" in Shansi.

As the turmoil on the mainland continued unabated, Japanese correspondents relayed more reports from wall posters in Peking, none of them confirmable.

These were the highlights: Vice Premier Tao Chu, denounced as the power behind recent bloody resistance to Mao in Canton and Nanking, has died of heart disease in a Peking hospital. Raised earlier in the purge to the standing committee of the party politburo, he turned on Mao after a decision to unleash the purge on the big city industries.

Child Is Accuser

Large crowds in Peking assembled before a poster accusing Mao's wife, Chiang Ching, a leader of the purge, of sheltering reactionaries in two Peking universities and refusing to listen to foes of Mao who have turned over a new leaf. The 27 signers said they were reformed reactionaries.

One of President Liu's daughters, Liu Tao, accused her father of buying a gold belt with party funds for his wife as a "consolation gift" and a gold shoehorn for himself.

Foreign Minister Chen Yi's wife, Railway Minister Lu Cheng-tso and Agriculture Minister Chiang I-chien were paraded through Peking's streets as anti-Maoists on Tuesday.

A STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER for Tokyo's Yomiuri Shimbun, visiting Red China as an ordinary tourist, gained the impression that Red Guards are using every available space to record "Quotations from Chairman Mao Tse-tung" in their cultural revolution. The photographer, Hideaki Mitsuihara, found this quotation painted on a roadway in Hangchow, central China. Translated roughly, it says "Revolution is innocent, and there is a reason in revolutionary acts."

Wounded In Viet Nam: Garden Soldier Battle Victim

An exploding land mine in the Iron Triangle battle area about 25 miles north of Saigon seriously wounded a Delta County soldier on Saturday, Jan. 14.

He is SP4 Lawrence D. "Lonnie" McPhee, 19, the son of the Gordon McPhees of Garden, who is receiving treatment in Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D.C.

He suffered the loss of his left eye and received shrapnel wounds in the back of his neck that are causing numbness throughout his body. How long he will be required to stay in the hospital has not been determined as yet, his parents were told.

Mr. and Mrs. McPhee and another son, Gordon Jr., returned to Garden Monday from Washington where they visited Lonnie in the hospital.

Lonnie was with U. S. forces engaged in operation "Cedar Falls" in the move to clear the Iron Triangle of Viet Cong when the land mine blew up and he was wounded. News reports from Vietnam give estimates of 700 Viet Cong casualties.

A 1965 graduate of Garden High School, he entered the service on Aug. 30, 1965, and completed basic training at

SP4 Lawrence McPhee

Fort Leonard Wood. He was trained also at tank school at Fort Knox and as a paratrooper at Fort Benning.

In Vietnam he was serving with Company D, 16th Armor, 173rd Airborne.

Lonnie is one of four sons and five children of the McPhees. Two of the sons were also in military service but are now back in civilian life.

Randall McPhee, whose home is in Garden but who is presently employed in Flint, served in the U. S. Air Force, getting out in May, 1963; and Gordon Jr., of Garden was in the Navy from 1958 to July, 1962.

The McPhee's daughter is Mrs. Lee Potvin of Garden and the fourth son is Neil McPhee, who is a teacher at Muskegon Heights.

Arrest 56 In Detroit Dope Raids: 3 Teens

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne State University said today it is preparing a massive information program to inform its 29,000 students about narcotics in the wake of a police raid near the midtown campus.

Police arrested 56 persons at six locations Tuesday night, including two 16-year-old girls and a 13-year-old boy. Detective Inspector Joseph Brown, head of the Detroit police narcotics bureau, said 16 were charged with violating the state narcotics law, including eight WSU students. The others were released, he said.

Dr. James P. McCormick, WSU vice president for student affairs, said 14 university students and an English instructor involved in the raids were subject to immediate suspension.

The instructor, Robert Buckeye, 28, of suburban Oak Park, was not charged by police. He has been employed at Wayne State since 1963. McCormick said he would receive a hearing.

"Because of the seriousness of the charges against those students involved, they will be called immediately before the Non-Academic Disciplinary Committee and will be subject to immediate suspension pending a hearing by that committee," he said.

"We were aware that there was a potential drug problem but we were unaware of the size of it," he added. "We recognize that the use of some of these drugs is very popular across the country and we have established an educational committee within the university to prepare material about them."

He said the material, describing the legal ramifications and medical effects of drugs, will be distributed to students.

Rock

Annual Meeting
Communion services will be held Sunday, Jan. 29, at 9 a.m. at the Rock Faith Lutheran Church by the Rev. Paul Landstrom of Marquette.

The annual congregation meeting will be held immediately after the 2 p.m. worship service on Feb. 5, when vice pastor, Rev. George Olson of Rapid River will conduct the service at the Rock Faith Lutheran Church.

Farewell Party
Mrs. Charlene Brower who taught for two years at the Rock High School has retired. Miss Helen Kelley has taken over her classes, as well as being the forensics coach.

Mrs. Brower was honored by the faculty with a farewell and a pink and blue party recently at the school. Marilyn Small and the senior class had a farewell party at the Small home Saturday evening. The senior class presented her with a gift for being class advisor. Mrs. Florence Sayen will be the class advisor for the last semester.

Mrs. Anna Carlson of Rock accompanied Mrs. Leo Schmeltzer of Marquette to Sumter, S.C., where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rickman and family for several days. Rickman is the daughter of Mrs. Schmeltzer and granddaughter of Mrs. Carlson.

PTA Meets
The Rock PTA held a brief business meeting at the school Monday evening. Most of the evening was spent with parents meeting with teachers. Lunch was served in the home ec. room throughout the evening.

During the business meeting, it was decided that the PTA will again serve lunch during the district basketball tournaments March 1-3-4, as well as serving lunch during the home basketball games. Home games are Jan. 27, Feb. 3-10-14.

Mrs. Ed Kaminen reported that of the 74 students signed up for dental work, only a few remain to be completed. Mrs. Robert Koski mentioned that Rapid River will again have the fluoride program and Rock may participate if it so desires. The next PTA meeting will be Feb. 27.

MSU Gets Medical College

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education today approved a four-year college of human medicine for Michigan State University.

At its December meeting, the board was deadlocked on the issue and failed to approve it on a 4-4 vote.

termination of interstate highway routes if a municipality disapproves a route picked by the department.

Highway Route Act
The highway director and municipalities involved would submit maps of proposed routes with the board approving one of them.

The governor asked for legislation to control interstate highway route selection after a squabble among Detroit suburbs over the route of I 696.

A bill introduced by Rep. William V. Weber, R-Kalamazoo, would exempt Michigan from a federal law making Daylight Saving Time mandatory in summer months.

A similar bill to permit Michigan to stay on year-round Eastern Standard Time was introduced at the beginning of the session by Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park.

Reps. Edward E. Mahalak, D-Romulus, and Edward Suski, D-Flint, introduced a "Michigan Military Act" to provide for organization, command, personnel, administration, training, supply, discipline and employment of the state's military.

Education Dept. Errs $11 Million

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's current budget will climb past the $1-billion mark for the first time in history, owing to increased expenditures for school aid and Medicaid, Gov. George Romney said Wednesday.

Romney said $1,025,000,000 will have been spent from the general fund budget by June 30, the end of this fiscal year. The Legislature estimated the amount at $974 million last spring.

The governor is to present his fiscal 1967-68 budget to the Legislature Feb. 2. He indicated he does not want it to be described as Michigan's first billion-dollar budget.

He added a teacher payroll miscalculation made by the State Department of Education accounted for some $11.2 million of the difference between anticipated and actual expenditure this year.

Medicaid Supplement
Altogether, Romney said, general fund outgo for school aid was about $33 million higher than anticipated and an $18 million supplement for the state's Medicaid program has been found necessary since the federal government established standards for the program.

State Budget Director Glenn Allen said the Department of Education's payroll estimate, including pensions and Social Security, was $763 million for the year, about $84 million too low.

Because of this underestimation, Romney said, the general fund had to provide $11.2 million more than expected in pension and Social Security payments.

Need For Doctor

Dr. Charles Morton of Detroit and Leroy Augenstein, of the MSU Biophysics Department, abstained. Board member Carmen Delliquadri of Houghton was absent.

Board members noted there is an acute need for more doctors in the state.

Brennan said the school at MSU should be particularly valuable because he understood it would concentrate mainly on producing practitioners.

The board also approved expansion of medical programs at Wayne State University and the University of Michigan.

The board said it planned to call the urgency of the need to expand medical education in this state and provisions for adequate financial support for the expansion to the attention of the Legislature and the governor.

Osteopaths Seek School
Board member O'Neil also said he thought there should be some exploration of the possibility of training doctors of osteopathic medicine as well as medical doctors at one of the state universities.

Doctor-Druggist Duo Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., has charged that some doctors are trying "to jack up their income" by going into the drug business and selling the medicines they prescribe.

He said Congress must put a stop to the practice. But Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., questioned whether the federal government should move into an area "which the states are competent to handle."

Hruska, speaking for Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as well, told a Senate Antitrust subcommittee the states seem willing and able to deal with problems in the field.

Hart said the American Medical Association has "softened their prohibition against doctor-druggists — and seems reluctant, unable or unwilling to change its new soft line."

"Thus, relief it seems can come from the Congress," he said.

Hart, chairman of the subcommittee, said only a minority of the 225,000 physicians in the United States are "selling the products they prescribe."

He said some, in isolated areas which have no drug stores, "do seek to serve the best interests of their patients."

being lifted. Interest rates are still extremely high, but they are moving down from their peaks.

The housing industry should be "moving smartly forward by the end of 1967, and ready for one of its best years in 1968," he said.

The council's report warned unions that a general adoption of cost-of-living escalators in wage contracts — a current bargaining trend — could become "a vast engine of inflation."

The council called for continued observance of its wage-price guidelines, even while it conceded that the soaring profits of industry and widespread price increases have given justification to labor's insistence on higher wage settlements. The wage increase guideline has been 3.2 per cent, based on the long-term annual rise in worker productivity. The productivity gain averaged 3.3 per cent from 1960 to 1966, the report said, but last year dipped to 3.1 per cent.

The presidential report is the third and last of his major annual messages to Congress.

But he said doctors who have financial interests in a "pharmacy" may steer their patients there. This damages the business of competing independent pharmacies.

Earl W. Kintner, counsel for the National Association of Retail Druggists, called this a conflict of interest.

"Frequently this medical foray into retail pharmacy has resulted in overprices, unneeded or excessive quantity of prescriptions," Kintner said.

He said there are probably about 3,000 drug stores now owned by physicians. But he said that is about double the figure six or eight years ago, and reflects an increasing trend.

P&H Hopes For High '67 Sales

MILWAUKEE — Harnischfeger Corp. "certainly is hopeful" that its fiscal 1967 sales volume will be as good as the record breaking total of $149.6 million in fiscal 1966.

That was the optimistic outlook expressed by Henry Harnischfeger, company president, in an interview following the company's annual stockholders' meeting Monday.

Possible tax increases and competitive situations which can affect product pricing structures could affect earnings, he added. The company earned $4.78 a share in fiscal 1966.

"We feel business is going to be much more competitive," he said. That is resulting in a different product mix than a year ago and requiring some reshuffling of operations that have slowed down the first quarter, ending Jan. 31, "at bit," he noted. The recently concluded nine week strike shut-down of Harnischfeger's overhead crane plant in Cudahy hurt, he added.

Board Chairman Walter Harnischfeger conducted the annual meeting. He reported that the company "is heading for a very successful year."

Rabies Control:

Dog Vaccination Clinic Saturday

Clinics for the vaccination against rabies of pet dogs and cats will be held by Dr. Don Alimenti at the Delta Animal Hospital in Escanaba from 2 to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 28.

Dr. Alimenti said there will be a charge for the vaccination of the animals and that sort of rabies, Dr. Alimenti pointed out. Because of the availability of effective anti-rabies vaccines, control programs such as that being offered here, can prevent epidemics.

Rabies is a potentially dangerous public health hazard, although the disease very seldom results in human fatalities in the United States.

Dogs and cats are generally the most common rabies carriers. Pet owners have the responsibility of helping to prevent outbreaks by cooperating in the control programs by having their dog or cat vaccinated.

The American Veterinary Medical Association also advises pet owners to obey all leash and licensing laws in the community; make sure their pet is identified by license tag and rabies inoculation tag; report stray dogs to the police or dog warden (in Delta County this is the office of the sheriff); and if persons are bitten by an animal they should contact their physician, board of health, or police immediately.

No Vaccination, No Dog License

Dog owners must show proof of the animal having received anti-rabies vaccination or it cannot be licensed, it was reported today from the Escanaba city utility office where the dog licenses are sold.

Forty-six dog licenses have been issued so far in the city. The deadline is March 1, 1967. After that date licenses must be bought from the county at double the price. Presently the price is $1 for male and unsexed dogs and $2 for females.

There are an estimated 1,000 to 1,500 dogs in the city of Escanaba.

Last year the total dog licenses sold in the city to March 1 numbered 364.

only a reduced charge as a owners will, however, pay part of the program to encourage the preventative treatment.

The clinics for the remainder of Delta County will be held in Gladstone and Rapid River the week of Feb. 5, the date and place to be announced later.

Ferency Draft Move Started

LANSING (AP) — Formation of a committee of 12 outstate Democratic leaders to "draft" Zoltan Ferency for another term as state party chairman was announced Wednesday.

Ferency, when questioned, said he hadn't heard about the group before Wednesday and declined to comment "until I know more about it."

The "Outstate Committee to draft Zoltan Ferency for State Democratic Chairman" sent a memorandum to county and district party chairmen praising Ferency and urging delegates to next month's Democratic convention to re-elect him.

Ferency announced last week he did not intend to run for another two-year term, but added he had "very enthusiastic" support in the party's rank and file and could be re-elected if he wished.

The committee's memorandum said Ferency "is the most qualified Democrat in Michigan to be state Democratic chairman" and echoed his confidence that he would be re-elected in an open convention.

Cochairmen of the draft-Ferency committee are Dr. Jerry M. Anderson, the party's 6th District chairman, and Gerald Sixby, Livingston County Democratic chief.

Long Aids Wallace Fight Welfare Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee has promised to help all he can in Alabama's fight against a threatened cutoff of federal welfare funds.

"I think you have made a strong case on behalf of Alabama," Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., told former Gov. George C. Wallace Wednesday after Wallace testified before Long's committee.

Wallace said the cutoff order by Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner is illegal and "just the beginning" of an arbitrary grab for power. Gardner has ruled that Alabama will get no federal funds after Feb. 28 for its public assistance and child welfare programs unless it gives assurance in writing that the programs are being administered without racial discrimination.

Wallace appeared before the Finance Committee as a special assistant to the present governor, his wife Laurine. And he gave the committee a statement from Mrs. Wallace in which she declared "our cause is a just one. And we intend no deviation from it."

Wallace met a generally friendly reception from Southern senators and some Republicans on the committee. Long said the hearing transcript would be sent to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. He added he would contact the department to see what defense it could make for its action.

AMC Has New Banker Backing

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors had a brand new $20 million bankroll today to back up its drive for a bigger share of the auto market—and survival.

The 24 banks which already held AMC's notes for a $75 million loan upped the ante Wednesday.

AMC's board chairman of less than a month — Roy D. Chapin — hailed the action as "an expression of confidence on the part of the banks."

The New York stock exchange reacted vigorously to the news. AMC's stock zoomed 1 1/4 to 8 1/2 on sales of 224,000 shares, late in the day. It finished as the day's most active stock.

The entire $95 million loan remained payable on May 31, the day on which the original $75 million was to be paid back. Industry sources said, however, that rather than repaying the $95 million, the financially troubled auto firm probably could seek a renegotiation of the loan at that time.

Approval of the loan marked a major triumph for Chapin, who took over as AMC chairman Jan. 9 in a surprise move which saw William Luneburg elevated to the presidency.

Schweigert-Davis Bills Aim To Slash Big Mac Toll To $1

LANSING (AP)—Two North ern Michigan legislators said Wednesday they will introduce companion bills to authorize re-financing of Mackinac Bridge bonds and drastically reduce the cost of crossing the bridge.

Sen. Thomas Schweigert of Petoskey and Rep. Robert Davis of St. Ignace, both Republicans, said their attack on "the problem of high bridge tolls will be in two stages."

Sen. Schweigert said his bill is designed to authorize re-financing of outstanding revenue bonds, which carry a high interest rate, and replace them with general obligation bonds.

Passage of Schweigert's Senate bill would require finding a new source of revenue which would be taken care of by Davis' bill.

Davis' bill would increase the state gasoline tax by one-quarter of one cent a gallon which would be earmarked to pay off the new bonds.

The legislators said that if their bills pass, tolls for passenger cars would be cut to $1 for a round trip instead of the present $7.50 and other vehicle rates would be reduced correspondingly.

They say the proposed lower tolls would provide more than $815,000 a year, based on 1966 traffic figures, and would be sufficient to pay annual maintenance costs.

Schweigert said now is a good time to renege the bridge because "the bond market has been showing improvement in recent weeks."

"The present Mackinac Bridge Authority bonds are drawing 4.25 per cent interest and on Feb. 1 of this year, it would cost $93,384,514 to redeem the outstanding bonds," he said. "We proposed to remove the present 3.25 per cent interest limit if we can refinance with general revenue bonds," Schweigert said. "It would be tragic, for instance, if this limit were to remain and the new bonds were to be bid in at a figure like 3.30 per cent."

Review Programs
GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A meeting to review programs of on-the-job training, federal re-training programs and apprenticeship will be held here Feb. 15-17, the U. S. Department of Labor reports. Some 500 training executives from industry and government are expected.

The motion picture "Viet Nam Profile" will be shown by the Upper Peninsula Youth For Christ at the Gravelaet Jr. High School Auditorium in Marquette on Saturday, Jan. 28, at 7:30 p.m. A bus will run on the following schedule: - Bark River 5 p.m.; Pine Ridge 5:20 p.m.; Salvation Army Escanaba 5:30 p.m.; Webster School 5:40 p.m.; Gladstone 6 p.m.

A regular immunization clinic will be held Friday at the Delta County Building from 2 to 4 p.m. Measles vaccine is still available and will be administered to children from 12 months to 14 years. Parents are advised to take advantage of these clinics as there have been cases of measles in the area. As soon as the present supply of vaccine is gone immunizations will be restricted to the 12 months to kindergarten age group.

HOW TO STOP FRITTERING AWAY YOUR SON'S COLLEGE EDUCATION
Not a nice thing to think about, but you could be doing just that if you don't have a regular savings program. Paychecks have a way of disappearing into thin air. And your best intentions to save often get postponed until the "next time around."

But there is an easy and sure way to save called the Payroll Savings Plan. And it works automatically.

You just ask your employer to set aside a small amount from your check each payday to be put toward the purchase of a U. S. Savings Bond.

For example, just $4.33 a week adds up to the $18.75 you need to buy a $25 Bond every month. More than likely you'll forget you even set it aside (a pretty painless way to feather your nest).

This way, those few dollars you never see now will be keeping Junior in tuition and textbooks later. What's more, they'll be working for Uncle Sam to keep the world strong and free for his generation.

So why don't you point your will-power in the right direction! Join the Payroll Savings Plan, and see how you, too, can be a reformed fritterer.

Downtown Renewal

The City of Escanaba faces 1967 as the year of decision on downtown renewal.

It shapes up as a year of great importance in municipal development. There are several major public works projects planned and a start on the expansion of the Escanaba Airport to make it a jet field.

But while the airport will be—moneywise—the biggest undertaking of the year in public works—the development of the downtown shopping district will be the most important. The airport work is a cinch, it must be done if the city is to stay on the air service map and the city cannot afford to be left off.

There is less certainty about downtown renewal, although it is of crucial importance to the future of the community.

The city government of Escanaba has moved for downtown renewal. Ideally, perhaps, the businesses immediately involved should sponsor redevelopment, but this hasn't happened. So the city, which has a big stake in the tax base there as well as an interest in community services, has made a proposal.

The city has engaged Harland, Bartholomew & Associates to prepare a comprehensive plan for the city's orderly development. In this overall community plan the downtown shopping district has been given priority for redevelopment first at request of Escanaba's retail businessmen.

The professional planners have proposed a central business district public parking lot as the first phase of a development program. Creation of the lot would cost $225,000 and the city is proposing that the owners of commercial property within 600 walking feet of the lot participate financially in the cost of acquiring and developing the parking lot.

About 50 property owners are involved and they have all been notified by the city of its plan to assess them for the lot. They have been asked to agree to the plan or to submit a counter proposal by Feb. 2.

There must be interest among the retailing business property owners affected by the plan, but it hasn't surfaced much yet. When city council held a meeting on the plan last Thursday only 4 of 55 owners attended. Not a dozen inquiries have been received at City Hall.

With expiration of the Feb. 2 deadline, city council will have before it its own plan and perhaps a counter-proposal from the property owners. It will make a choice between the two and will, presumably, initiate an action program to end the long impasse on urban renewal.

It can start an assessment proceeding under the city charter with a hearing of objections to the plan, which would probably be more concerned with adjustments of the program than with rejection of it.

The proposed parking lot would be almost a total city block, consisting of most of the half blocks on 1st Ave. N. from 11th St. to 13th St. The area has the city's heaviest shopping foot traffic and the lot would be free, but probably with a time limit on parking to prevent filling it up with store employees' cars.

The city would pay 25 per cent of the cost of acquiring and developing the lot and would also shoulder the considerable expense of maintaining and lighting it. No one suggests that the plan is perfect but it is a start on a redevelopment without which Escanaba's retailing district faces deadly competition.

The surface consideration in the project is with parking, but it is really only a symptom of the problem of creating a dynamic retailing district which will attract to Escanaba a larger share of the shopping potential in this area. Escanaba already has achieved this in automobile retailing; it gets much more than its population proportion of the area's automobile business. If its general retailing adopts the same progressive attitude, urban renewal can be almost automatic.

All about Escanaba cities are facing the same problem and investing in their future by improving their downtown areas. When an oil company optioned the Marinette Hotel in the heart of that city recently the professional developer and, with the city, acquired the hotel. It's being razed and in its place, instead of a gas station will be a $1 million Holiday Inn with 80 rooms.

Escanaba's recent developments have all gone to its perimeter, taking traffic away from the core city where redevelopment is so much needed to clear blight areas and provide facilities that can contribute to the city's growth and to their owners' income.

Keep Michigan Green! In the past year, many letters were submitted to the Press for publication in regard to the highly debatable question of whether the trees on Memory Lane should be cut down or not. If you would like to get a clear picture of what an area without trees looks like, take a ride out to the Flat Rock area and take a good look at a perfect example of "Before and After."

There are still some trees left, but when you pass the Holy Family Church and see all the beautiful utility poles on the north side of the road, no longer obscured by tall stately elm trees that had been standing for over 60 years; then and only then will you have an idea of how Memory Lane can look.

There are all the legal rights of the U.P. Power Co. to stand on, but recently the U.P. Power Co. gave a contract to a group with a power-saw happy foreman to remove trees that will stand in the way of progress. The foreman of this group approached us and asked how we felt about the trees in front of our home. After questioning the reason for this, my husband gave him permission to cut down one part of a twin elm with the promise of saving the others.

No more thought was given to the matter until one morning, I looked out to find everything gone. One tree in particular with a diameter of 24 inches and the lowest limbs spreading from the trunk 10 to 20 feet above the height of the power lines was downed. Why! I have looked at this tree many times and it never has and never would interfere with the power lines.

This tree was beautiful... it provided wonderful shade in the summer, shelter for hundreds of birds and stark beauty in the winter. Now, because a power-saw happy foreman saw fit, we can gaze with inspired awe on straight upright poles with strings of line. I can hardly wait for Spring and the first budding of leaves. I bet the birds can hardly wait also.

This waste was not necessary and I certainly hope other people will help to prevent more of this.

Mrs. Helen C. Sovey
Route 1
Gladstone

P.S. Who estimated progress at the expense of the taxpayer to go to this extent?

Editor's note: U.P. Power Co. said that the foreman of the brushing crew with which it contracted for removal of trees obstructing its electric line received permission from the husband to remove obstructing trees. The husband at the same time said that he hoped that any removals would be limited to necessity.

The utility had what it regarded as permission to remove the trees. The trees were not on the property of the complainant, but on the road right-of-way and thus the property of the county.

Mao Renews Revolution

Red Guard Riotous

EDITOR'S NOTE — This article by an AP specialist is the fourth in a series of five back-grounding the upheaval in China.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Mao Tse-tung's "great proletarian cultural revolution," spearheaded by hysterical teenagers, has stormed through China's cities, creating wild and violent confusion. It has reached into the trade unions and the factories. And now it is reaching out to China's 500 million peasants.

Although most China-watchers agree that the danger of a shooting civil war has diminished, China remains in dire peril.

The economy of the cities has suffered severe wrenches from the riotous confusion, and now there is a prospect that the farms are threatened.

China's spring sowing must begin around April. If there is an interruption in that, the country is in trouble. It already has a problem feeding 750 million people and food is rationed. Despite official reports to the contrary from Peking, experts have reason to believe the last harvests were poor. A new crop failure would be a major calamity.

But the "great proletarian cultural revolution" goes on. This is more than a power struggle of conflicting personalities, although that is part of it. It is evidently a clash of fundamental conceptions of China's economic, social and political future. Recent announcements of what has been going on in China's cities reveal the depth of this clash.

Defense Minister Lin Biao, the man who seems to have the advantage, at least temporarily, has turned all the terrifying power of his "cultural revolution" apparatus at the power bases of his opponents, who seem to be led by President Liu Shao-chi and the party secretary-general, Teng Hsiao-ping.

Much of the opposition's power has rested with the urban laboring class in the party-dominated All China Federation of Trade Unions. Lin now has succeeded in abolishing that organization — as he had eliminated another opposition power base before by abolishing the eight-million-strong Young Communist League.

The Young Communist League was replaced by the teen-age Red Guards — the Hung Wei Ping. The trade union federation now is to be replaced by the "rebel revolutionaries" — Tsao Fan.

Lin's forces, Tse-tung's blessing of "Mao Tse-tung's thinking," moved in on the factories with disastrous results. Production was stopped in many. Enemies were accused of fomenting strikes. The wheels of industry are being slowed, even stopped in some cases, by endless rallies and forced mass discussions of Mao's thought.

Each side is accusing the other of sabotaging production. Lin's forces joined the battle for the laboring class with a declaration of war on "economism," a Communist sin which suggests trying to buy the loyalty of workers with promises of better wages, welfare and living standards. Lin's forces say this is "bribery of the workers," and that it "corrupts the masses."

The time of decision may be close—although it will likely be a long time before Red China recovers from the shock of this titanic struggle.

To informed watchers, the critical question is not which personality wins out, but which line wins: Whether China will continue belligerently isolated from her neighbors, and whether she can recover from all the shocks of the past year and a half.

One of the interesting features of this year's American team is that while the three pairs all play some version of Standard American, they play three widely different versions. Edgar Kaplan and Norman Kay use a weak no-trump opening when not vulnerable, which explains how Edgar found himself as declarer at a four spade contract in their all-important semi-final match against Rapee and Lazar.

Lazar made the good opening lead of the three of clubs against this contract and it was up to Edgar to show his mettle by making the hand.

The play is interesting as an example of expert technique. The seven, nine and king of clubs went on the first trick. Edgar drew three rounds of trumps to finish in his own hand, then led the six of clubs. After Lazar played the deuce dummy's eight lost to the East's jack.

Rapee returned a diamond. Kaplan took his ace and king and led a third club to dummy's ace. Then he led dummy's last club. Rapee was allowed to hold the trick with his queen as Edgar discarded his nine of diamonds.

Rapee was down to hearts and had to lead to dummy's king to give Edgar the contract trick.

Two declarers played and made three no-trump from the North seat when the queen of clubs was opened. One other South made four spades when West was kind enough to open a heart for him. The other four spade declarers failed to discover the throw-in play and went down one.

Edgar's fine play only represented a three IMP gain but the swing was 10 International Match Points since he had gone down.

Michigan Hospitals Complain Medicare Payment Too Slow

LANSING (AP)—Uncle Sam owes Michigan hospitals more than $21 million for Medicare bills and some hospitals have had to borrow money to pay their nurses, the Michigan Hospital Association reports.

Brazil Leader Seeks U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect Arthur Da Costa e Silva of Brazil meets with President Johnson today and may find out how much U.S. aid he can expect for his announced plan to "humanize" Brazilian government programs.

Costa e Silva goes to the White House for a luncheon in his honor after two hours of conferences with Undersecretary of State Lincoln Gordon, coordinator of American aid under the Alliance for Progress, and with William S. Gaud, administrator of the U.S. Agency for International Development.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk extended Costa e Silva "the warmest welcome" in behalf of Johnson when the Brazilian leader arrived at nearby Andrews Air Force Base Wednesday night for a one-week state visit.

Rusk accompanied Costa e Silva to Blair House, the mansion near the White House for visiting dignitaries, and the two held initial talks in the library.

Costa e Silva is to be inaugurated March 15.

Car Sales Slump Shows Signs Of Tapering Off

DETROIT (AP)—Sales of U.S.-built automobiles slipped again in the middle 10 days of this month, compared with the same year-ago period, but there were a few specks of brightness in the market.

None of the four top automakers showed a gain, as compared with the Jan. 11-20 span of 1966—the industry's next-to-best sales year in history.

But the dip was not as deep as in 1967's first 10 days, when sales were 21.1 per cent off the pace with which last year started. This time the percentage decline was 17.1 per cent.

While the industry holds that comparisons of unlike periods generally are deceiving, all of the companies showed sharp gains over sales in the month's first 10 days.

American vehicle owners scrapped 7.2 million vehicles in 1966, a record, but at the same time the vehicle population of the United States increased by 3.5 million, the largest single year growth on record.

HOUGHTON—Dr. G. C. Byers announces plans to relinquish his post as head of Michigan Tech's mathematics department in order to devote more time to his career as a mathematician.

Dr. Byers, 48, a native of Hancock, was graduated from Houghton High School, attended Suomi College and the University of Michigan. His Ph.D. degree was awarded by Duke University in 1953.

In Service

Pvt. Dale J. Desjardins, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stafford J. Desjardins, Rte. 1, Bark River, Mich., has completed a 10-week engineer equipment repair course at the Army Engineer School, Ft. Belvoir, Va. He was trained in the maintenance of engineer construction and earthmoving equipment. Instruction was also given in the repair of gasoline and diesel engines, air compressors, tractors, graders, crane shovels, and other engineer equipment.

care claims and the necessary patients records.

The association recently asked 228 acute general care hospitals across the state about Medicare problems and 80 have responded.

Slow payment led the list of complaints, it said, and estimates based on the 80 replies indicate that after six months of Medicare, Michigan hospitals are waiting for $21.5 million in unpaid bills.

Forced To Borrow

"In a number of cases, hospitals have had to borrow money at high current interest rates in order to meet payrolls and other expenses," said Allan Barth, the association's executive director.

"Even though the entire financial problem cannot be attributed to Medicare, Medicare payment bottlenecks have contributed to the hospital's fiscal difficulties," he added.

Inflation and new legislation on wages and hours for hospital workers also have contributed to financial troubles, he indicated.

The survey did not show an overcrowding problem as a result of over-65 persons taking advantage of Medicare insurance to seek treatment for long-standing health problems.

Asked whether their patient loads increased after Medicare went into effect last July 1, only about half the hospitals said yes, and many indicated small increases.

Barth said the responses already received established clear trends. The hospitals responding, he said, had to hire an additional 218 employees at an annual payroll expense of $892,988, an average of $4,086 a worker.

Medicaid Faces Threat

Projecting these figures on a per bed basis, he said, indicates 547 additional workers with total wages of $2.24 million are needed statewide to handle Medicare paperwork.

Hospital administrators complained about slow verification by the Social Security Administration of a patient's eligibility for benefits, paperwork problems with the deductible factors in insurance coverage and with other health insurance policies held by the patient.

Barth said if the new state Medicaid program for needy persons causes a state treasury deficit, as some officials have forecast, many Michigan hospitals will face financial disaster.

Mrs. Johnson Dances At Diamond Dinner

NEW YORK (AP) — Politics were forgotten Wednesday night as the mayor of New York and the nation's first lady danced a rumba around the grand ballroom at the Diamond dinner dance held at the Plaza Hotel.

John V. Lindsay and Mrs. Lyndon Baines Johnson danced, halted, talked earnestly, danced some more, smiled, gestured and eventually found their way back to table 17.

In turn, the President's wife, a tireless belle, one-timed and arm-pumped to waltz music, jostled to "Winchester Cathedral" and glided with other partners to smoother music.

Republicans, Democrats, diplomats, all were a part of the largest concentration of wealth displayed in New York or possibly the country this season.

The benefit dinner dance, which raised more than $30,000 for the Institute of International Education, was underwritten by friends of the diamond industry. And the best friends the diamond industry can have are rich people.

There were Fords, Chryslers, Fraziers, Henry Clay Fricks, Lodges, Hutons (Edward E.) Pierponts (John), Roosevelts (John), Astors (Vincent), Plimptons (the hon. Francis) and the Ryans (John Barry III).

Certainly a very special friend of the diamond industry is Mrs. Charles W. Engelhard, whose husband mined a fortune of these gems from South African diggings. The couple entertained at their Waldorf Towers apartment, previous to the ball.

Mrs. Johnson and 40 other guests.

Greetings everyone through the evening was the ball chairman, Mrs. George A. Braga.

More than $250,000 in diamonds were modeled, but the worth of those worn by the guests was inestimable. Nevertheless, a few women — Mrs. Johnson among them — chose to decorate their necklines with less ostentatious pearls.

To remove the seeds from tomatoes, cut each tomato in half crosswise and gently squeeze out the seeds just as you would hand-squeeze lemon juice from half of a lemon.

Prantash Nag Guest Speaker At BPW Club

"Principles Behind Foreign Aid" was the subject of a timely and informative talk heard by members of Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club at their regular dinner meeting held at the Sherman Hotel Tuesday evening. Guest speaker was Prantash Nag, a member of the faculty at Bay de Noc Community College.

Well qualified to speak on his subject, Mr. Nag graduated from the University of Calcutta in 1953 with a B. A. degree and earned his Master's degree in 1960 at the University of Minnesota. Majoring in the field of economics and agricultural economics, he has completed all course work towards a doctorate and is currently working on his thesis.

Mr. Nag feels that foreign aid is misunderstood with some people for it and some against. The idea was started long ago with countries sending gifts to other countries by their ambassadors in order to promote better relations and serve foreign policy purposes. United States foreign aid is based mainly on two reasons—idealism and to serve the interests of our own country.

Even though foreign aid has become part of our government policy, Mr. Nag stated that the amount has decreased from 3 per cent to 4 per cent of our net wealth after World War II to 1 per cent during the Kennedy administration and the present ratio is .3 per cent. With a projected 1967 income of 700 billion, a very small fraction will go for foreign aid. Those who are against foreign aid cite the balance of payments deficit which is caused by more wealth going out of the country than coming in. However, Mr. Nag said, when the United States makes loans or grants it is with the condition, generally speaking, that the money be spent to buy goods and services from the United States and most loans are to be repaid.

Speaking specifically of India, the most important and troublesome problem is the food shortage and population increase and they overshadow all other problems even though progress has been made in many areas. With a population of 500 million, India can produce 94 per cent to 96 per cent of its food if the weather is good and there is no drought. Since its independence in 1948, the great bulk of this shortage has been filled by shipments of surplus food from the United States. This is paid in native currency and the United States uses the money to maintain its embassies and various programs in India.

When Mr. Nag came to this country, he had two objectives—higher education for himself and to tell people of the need to educate farmers in India so that they would learn better methods of farming and know how and why to use tools, pesticides and fertilizers. He believes that education of farmers would be the best gift that the United States can give to India and other countries.

Mrs. Val Post, manager of the Canterbury Book Store, was welcomed as a new member at Tuesday's meeting which was arranged by the Public Relations Committee consisting of Alice Kvam, Marian Tillman and Jean Kasun.

Deannery Meeting

The meeting of the Escanaba Deannery of the Marquette Council of Catholic Women which was scheduled for Tuesday night was cancelled due to the storm and will be held Friday night in St. Thomas Parish Hall in Escanaba at 8:30 p. m. Adult School Call Issued

The Escanaba Area Public Schools Adult Education Program will hold its annual registration, Wednesday, Feb. 1, at the Junior High School from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.

Instructors of the various courses will be present to enroll students and to answer questions concerning the courses.

The Adult Education Program consists of a group of courses offered by the Escanaba Area Board of Education to provide residents of the area an opportunity to enroll in courses of an avocational nature, purely for the enjoyment of learning something new and meeting new people. There are no entrance or educational requirements.

Courses offered include typing, machine shop, sewing, knitting, liquid embroidery, upholstery, ceramics, art in water color, guitar and beginning bridge.

The Program is a self-supporting and will offer any course as long as at least 16 people are interested in enrolling and an instructor can be found.

Suggestions have been received for a remedial English and a shorthand course. If interested, call 786-4468 and an instructor will be sought if enrollment is sufficient. Other suggestions are also welcome.

do pennies make a difference in your food bill?

You bet they do.

And we should know.

We built our business by saving pennies for generations of folks like you.

For instance, take our policy on multiple-priced items.

If an item is priced 3 for 25¢, the price for one is obviously 9¢.

But what happens if you want two?

Do you pay 2 times 9¢ or 18¢?

Not at A&P.

We sell it at 2 for 17¢.

That's the fair way—the A&P way.

Yes, in the food business...

In food budgeting, pennies make a difference.

We watch them for you and for us.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

School Merger Is Needed Now, States Albright

The Powers-Spalding Public Schools will hold a public meeting at the Powers-Spalding High School in Spalding at 8 tonight to explain the proposed reorganization of three school districts in northern Menominee County into one district.

The proposal will be voted on Monday, Feb. 6 by electors of the schools districts of Carney-Nadeau, which comprises all of Nadeau township and part of Goulet, of Hermansville, which comprises Meyer Township, and of Powers-Spalding, which comprises Spalding Township and parts of Goulet and Harris.

Willis J. Owens of Northern Michigan University will preside at tonight's public meeting to explain the reorganization proposal, which was submitted by the State Reorganization Committee after the Menominee County Intermediate Reorganization Committee failed to submit a reorganization plan by the deadline set by the State School Reorganization Act.

Urges Action Now

Jerome Albright, superintendent of the Powers-Spalding Schools, today replied to an Escanaba Daily Press editorial suggesting that delay in reorganization might be useful to the purpose of fitting it to the state's new system of vocational education, which is not yet defined in the area.

"Our board of education is unanimously in favor of this reorganization in Northern Menominee County," wrote Albright. (The Menominee County Intermediate School District Board of Education on May 19, 1966 recommended that the county be divided into three K-12 school districts.)

"We have been working long and hard trying to overcome some of the barriers that have been hampering reorganization. We are just getting to the point where the people are starting to realize that we do not offer quality education in our small schools and you come along and throw in vocational and technical education to confuse them even more."

Opposes Delay
"In your article you suggest a little delay would not cause any great harm. How long a delay. One year? Two years? Maybe five years? We've been delaying this question for 10 or 15 years now and our students are the ones suffering. Don't you think we have waited long enough?"

"Have you ever been inside our schools to observe some of our classes and the problems we are confronted with? Some classes are too small, others are too large. Such things as art, music, good library facilities, foreign languages and even the so-called 'manual arts' programs are marginal and in some cases non-existent."

"Are we being fair to ourselves and to the children in our schools if we sit back and wait until someone decides how and when vocational and technical education is going to fit into the total picture?"

Results Cited
"I disagree with you in your editorial when you say the Department of Education has not given its full blessing to the vote coming up on Feb. 6. I think they have endorsed this election as well as countless others throughout the U. S. and the entire state. If the State has not endorsed these elections then there are many school districts in the state that have reorganized under this 'poorly conceived school reorganization act.'"

"The state has not said that these districts in Northern Menominee County must reorganize just for the sake of satisfying the law. They are looking at these districts to see if they can be improved by reorganization. I think this is the case in Northern Menominee County as well as in all the areas where school district reorganization has taken place."

"It may not be the best legislation to deal with the problem, however, I am convinced there would be many school districts in the state still trying to operate inefficient schools systems without any thought of improving them. It appears

Debbie Desmond's Condition Better

Three-year-old Deborah Desmond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Desmond, 1501 Lake Shore Dr. who was critically injured when struck by a car Jan. 12, is reported improving today at St. Francis Hospital.

Her mother, Lidia, said her daughter is responding to treatment and has been taken off the critical list. Hospital officials reported Deborah's condition as "fair." She is no longer in a coma.

The child was injured while walking with her mother in the 1500 block of Lake Shore Dr. Her injuries included a fractured skull.

U.S. Marines Kill 57 Cong In Day-Long Fight

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. Marines engaged an estimated battalion of Viet Cong — perhaps 500 men — in day-long skirmishing in the Ky Lam River Valley southwest of Da Nang today and reported killing 57.

The multicompartment Leatherneck force was officially reported to have suffered moderate casualties.

A spokesman said the Marines were on a sweep in the valley, 10 miles northeast of An Hoa. Sporadic fighting continued at dusk.

U.S. B-52 bombers struck 32 miles north of Saigon in the Iron Triangle campaign and, in two other raids, pounded Communist positions on the central coast of South Vietnam.

Bad weather again curtailed air strikes at North Vietnam.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters announced that American troop strength topped the 400,000 mark last Saturday, an increase of 5,000 over the previous week.

U.S. headquarters also announced that American casualties dropped last week while South Vietnamese authorities reported a sharp increase in casualties to government forces.

The U.S. Command said 123 Americans were killed and 716 were wounded compared with 144 killed and 1,044 wounded during the previous week. Vietnamese headquarters reported 340 government soldiers killed last week, 143 more than the 197 reported killed the week before.

Blizzard Hits South Michigan

A swirling blizzard swept into Southern Michigan today, blinding motorists and piling up snow at the rate of an inch an hour in some places.

The State Weather Bureau issued heavy snow warnings and said as much as eight inches of snow might be dumped in some areas by tonight.

More snow and colder temperatures were predicted for Southern Michigan for Friday.

State Police at East Lansing were investigating a reported seven-car pileup on I 96 near Lansing, but no serious injuries were reported.

They said every available car was busy checking accident reports. Visibility was reduced to about 75 yards, they said.

The snow began about 8 a.m. at Paw Paw, and piled up about eight inches within three hours. In the Lansing area, the snow started around 10 a.m. and reached a depth of more than two inches before noon.

The entire southwest section of Michigan was snow-covered and slippery, with the storm moving toward the northeast, police said.

Mild temperatures threatened a slushy experience for walkers and motorists.

The Weather Bureau said the snow would be accompanied by possible freezing rain in the extreme southeast.

The storm centered on southern sections of the Lower Peninsula. Little new snow fell to the north and above the Straits of Mackinac.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued a traffic court summons to James R. Fitzharris, 19, of 700 Lake Shore Drive, for speeding.

The Bay de Noc Community College Board of Trustees will meet in special session at 7:30 p. m. today in Room 10 of the college.

Phillip Joseph Racine, 808 2nd Ave. S., and June Marie Boudreau, 1710 1st Ave. S., have applied for a marriage license at the county clerk's office.

James E. Heath of 332 N. 14th St. was slightly injured at 4:45 a. m. today when the light truck he was driving went out of control at the east end of Ludington St. and struck the garage and fence of the U. S. Coast Guard Light Station. Police ticketed Heath for violation of the basic speed law, driving too fast for conditions.

Patrick Koehler, 23, of 1213 3rd Ave. N., was sentenced in Escanaba Municipal Court on Jan. 18 to serve 90 days in jail on charges of assaulting a police officer who arrested him, reckless driving, and for not having an operator's license on his person. He was arrested by Escanaba police the night of Jan. 12. He was sentenced to 90 days on each count, to be served concurrently, and to make $28.98 restitution to the city for damage to the police patrol car. The court permitted him to spend days on the job and with his family and to sleep at night in the county jail.

CIVIL DEFENSE officers, from left, Cecil Chase of Escanaba, chairman of the Delta County Civil Defense Committee; Capt. Jack M. Nemrava, Battle Creek, deputy director of Michigan Civil Defense; Rudolph E. Menchi, Battle Creek, Civil Defense Region 4 field officer; and Dr. Thomas G. Ellis, Houghton, director of civil defense education, Michigan Tech University, examine survival instructions at "Civil Defense—Government In An Emergency" training program Wednesday at Delta County building. (Daily Press Photo)

Lives At Stake:

Fallout -- Are You Ready?

"What would you do if it happened today?"

Dr. Thomas G. Ellis, director of Civil Defense education, Michigan Tech University, asked that question of a group of city, county and township officials Wednesday night at the "Civil Defense—Government In An Emergency" training session at the Delta County Building.

"What would you do if Russia launched a nuclear attack on the United States right now?" Ellis asked. "What are your chances for survival?"

What is your responsibility in your position of public trust?" "I'll tell you," he continued. "It is your responsibility to do the best you can to save as many lives as you can. That's why we're here tonight, to try to give you some ideas of where you can get some help."

He said the time to be concerned is now. Although there never may be a nuclear war, he pointed out, if an attack is once launched it's too late to do anything.

Mrs. Labre Again Elected President Of Speech Society

Mrs. Rene Labre, 801 Lake Shore Dr., was reelected president of the Better Hearing and Speech Society Wednesday night at the Chamber of Commerce building.

Other officers reelected were Brother Felix, vice president, Mrs. Charles O'Neill, treasurer, and Mrs. Carlton Mineau, secretary.

The society heard Mrs. Frank Neumeier discuss Michigan's reappointment law and how it will affect the Delta County Board of Supervisors.

"Delta County will have fifteen supervisors on the County Board under the law," Mrs. Neumeier said. At present the County Board consists of twenty-seven members, one from each township, nine from Escanaba, and four from Gladstone. Under the reappointment law each supervisor would represent a district with a population averaging 2,300 people, based on the one man one vote principle. Each supervisor would be elected by the voters of his district.

The present county board must reappoint itself by May 15th or this change will be made up of the County Treasurer, County Clerk, County Prosecutor, and the Chairmen of the two political parties.

Valley College Advisors Named

MIDLAND (AP)—The appointment of a 12-member advisory board of fellows for Saginaw Valley College was announced Wednesday by Dr. Samuel Marvie, president of the college.

The board named D. M. Fitzgerald, president of the Wickes Corp. of Saginaw, as its chairman. Louis A. Vaupre of Bay City, a division manager of Consumers Power Co., was elected vice chairman, and Dr. Shailer L. Bass of Midland, president of Dow-Corning Corp., was elected secretary.

Tax Assessors To Hear Strom

The 14th annual Upper Peninsula Conference for Tax Assessing Officers will be held at the State Office Building in Escanaba on Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 14 and 15, 1967.

The conference is conducted annually by the University of Michigan Extension Service with the cooperation of the Michigan State Tax Commission, the Institute of Public Administration of the University of Michigan, Michigan State Association of Supervisors, U.P. Association of County Tax Directors and Appraisers and the Michigan Assessors Association.

The conference this year will concentrate on the fundamentals of assessing during a four-hour session on the afternoon of Feb. 14. Workshop sessions on the equalization process will be held during a two-hour session on the morning of Wednesday, Feb. 15.

Other topics to be discussed at the conference will be senior citizens' exemption, veterans' exemptions, new legislation affecting taxation which will include the assessment of mineral rights, agricultural personal property exemptions and household exemptions.

Attorney Wheaton L. Strom of Escanaba, former chairman of Delta County Board of Supervisors and former member of the City of Escanaba Board of Review, will speak on "The Ad Valorem Concept of Taxation" at the conference banquet Tuesday evening at the House of Ludington.

Girl Abducted From Bus Stop Near Fruitport

MUSKEGON (AP) — A 15-year-old girl was reportedly abducted at knife point today while waiting for a school bus near Fruitport in Muskegon County.

The girl, whose name was not released, reportedly was forced into a car by three men. Other children at the bus stop called police.

No further description of the three men was available.

State Police at Grand Haven said an 11-year-old girl was approached by a man earlier today in the same area. They said the girl escaped into a house and discounted any connection between the two incidents.

Weingartner Girl Hurt In Accident

Candice Weingartner, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Weingartner of Ishpeming and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Weingartner of Rock, is hospitalized at Bell Memorial Hospital with injuries suffered in a traffic accident last Sunday.

Candice was struck while walking on a sidewalk by a parked car, which was pushed onto the sidewalk when hit by another automobile. She suffered a slight concussion, a broken finger and multiple bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weingartner hope to return this weekend from Rochester, Minn. Mrs. Weingartner had surgery Monday at the Mayo clinic.

Five Peninsula Towns Honored For Storm Aid

For spontaneous demonstration of all-out Michigan hospitality when hundreds of motorists were stranded for up to two days in the big post-Thanksgiving snow storm, five Upper Peninsula communities will receive a governor's award.

They are Engadine and Naubinway in Garfield Township and Gould City in Newton Township of Mackinac County, Manistique in Schoolcraft County and Skandia in Skandia Township in Marquette County.

The first four are along U.S. 2 from 40 to 90 miles west of St. Ignace. Skandia is 15 miles south of Marquette on U.S. 41.

The award is announced by Dale I. Sellers, president of the Greater Michigan Foundation, sponsoring organization of the annual Michigan Week. Sellers is senior vice president of the Bank of the Commonwealth, Detroit. In communities throughout the state one day of the seven-day celebration in May — Friday — is always devoted to promotion and performance of hospitality as a Michigan trait the whole nation should know about.

"When the heaviest snow in years suddenly stopped all traffic over a big section of the Upper Peninsula the Sunday night and Monday after Thanksgiving, families and communities took travelers in with the warmest hospitality imaginable," Sellers said. "In the five places which will receive the community award signed by Governor Romney, fire stations and town halls housed hundreds of people and for two days housewives brought food as though the visitors were their personal guests."

Sellers said that in December four men in the Michigan Week statewide organization were assigned to recommend what for the state's recognition would take and to select the communities to be honored. They are Keith Forsberg of Marquette, deputy general chairman of Michigan Week for the Northern third of the state, Regional Chairmen James Schneider of Sault Ste. Marie and Dean Rhoads of Manistique, and Mackinac County Chairman Edward McNamara, Jr.

Engadine, Naubinway and Gould City will receive their awards at a high school basketball game in Engadine Friday night. Manistique and Skandia will receive theirs on Hospitality Day of Michigan Week, Friday, May 26.

Former Resident Dies Friday In L'Anse

Mrs. Katherine J. LaBelle of Kenton, Mich., formerly of Escanaba died Friday at Baraga County Hospital in L'Anse. Born in Maringo, Ill., she was 81 years of age.

Surviving are nine daughters, Evelyn Joz of Roseville, Calif., Viola Decremier, Kenton, Eva Barker, New York City, Alvina Buckholtz, Celina Nelson, Escanaba, Louise Kinnart of Chicago, Rose Servillo of Los Angeles, Delia Beans of Fairfax, Iowa and Clara Kivkas of Rock; one son, Medrick LaBelle of Gladstone and numerous grandchildren; two brothers, Robert Wilkinson of Sharon, Wis. and Cecal Wilkinson of Harvard, Ill.

Interment was in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Nurses

MARQUETTE — Graduation ceremonies for 15 women comprising the 45th practical nursing class at Northern Michigan University's Practical Nurse Education Center will be held Tuesday, Jan. 31.

Among those graduating are Mrs. Helen M. Seaman, Gulliver; Mrs. Doris Ann O'Donnell, Newberry; and Mrs. Martha Chelina Millu, Trout Creek.

Many persons believe that Smyrna was the birthplace of the Greek poet, Homer.

The breaking and entering occurred sometime last night and was discovered this morning. Roger Hanley telephoned police at 8:30 a. m. to report the burglary.

Officers said that entry was made by breaking a small window in a rear door and then opening the rear overhead door.

Service Station Entered; $179 Taken From Till

The Hanley City Service Station at 102 N. 23rd St. was broken into last night and $174 is missing from the cash drawer, Escanaba police reported today.

The breaking and entering occurred sometime last night and was discovered this morning. Roger Hanley telephoned police at 8:30 a. m. to report the burglary.

Officers said that entry was made by breaking a small window in a rear door and then opening the rear overhead door.

U.P. Research To Be Televised

HOUGHTON — Film of a Michigan Tech study of biological rhythms in bats is included in a program to be televised nationally by the National Broadcasting Co. Jan. 28 and March 11.

The Michigan Tech study is being conducted by Dr. Robert C. Stones, assistant professor of zoology. The program series is entitled "Animal Secrets" and the unit featuring Tech's research is called "Biological Clocks." Telecasts will include: WFRV-TV, Green Bay, 10:30 p.m. EST, Jan. 29. WLUC-TV, Marquette, 6:30 p.m. EST, Feb. 4.

Recent scientific investigations have shown that rhythms in physiological and behavioral functions or organisms occur under the control of an internal clock mechanism within the bodies of mammals. The nature, location and factors controlling this mechanism are still unknown.

Dr. Stones has been studying bats kept in captivity and under varying white light and temperature conditions in an effort to learn more about biological "clocks."

Space scientists, for example,

need to know if any effects develop by altering the normal day-night light cycle on space travelers as they leave the earth and travel into space. Earth-bound travelers may be plagued by upset patterns of sleep and other established body functions after fast transcontinental and overseas flights due to a change in environmental conditions to which they have become accustomed.

For his research, Dr. Stones has used bats taken from unworked mine shafts in the Copper Country. "This is one of the best sources for bats in the entire country," Dr. Stones says.

FBI Recovers Bellini Painting

CHICAGO (AP) — A $350,000 painting by Italian Renaissance artist Giovanni Bellini was recovered by FBI agents Wednesday, more than a year after it was stolen from St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Ind.

The FBI seized the painting after arresting Joseph A. Riso, 28, of River Grove, Ill., who they said was placing the work in the trunk of his car.

Riso, charged with interstate transportation of stolen goods, appeared before U. S. Commissioner C.S. Bentley Pike who fixed bond at $2,500. The case was continued to Feb. 8.

The painting, "Virgin Mary and Child with St. Nicholas of Bari and Donor," was discovered missing in November 1965. The painting, donated in 1961 by Dr. Bohumir Kyril, a Chicago musician, had not been insured because the university did not budget funds to authenticate the work. A painting must be authenticated before a theft policy can be issued, the Rev. Charles H. Banet, St. Joseph president said.

Father Banet said the college would try to insure the painting after obtaining an official appraisal.

Officials at the Parke-Hunt Art Gallery in New York said the painting was authenticated in 1953.

On Rights Body

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney Wednesday announced two reappointments to the State Civil Rights Commission.

Renamed for four-year terms expiring Dec. 31, 1970, were the Rev. A. A. Banks Jr., pastor of the Second Baptist Church of Detroit, and Sidney Shevitz, Detroit attorney.

Senate confirmation of the reappointments is required.

U.P. Communities Cited For Aid To Storm's Victims

By The Associated Press
Five Little Upper Peninsula communities will be honored for selfless hospitality they showed to travelers stranded in a blizzard last Nov. 27.

The five are Engadine, Gould City, Manistique, Naubinway and Scandia.

They will get citations for unselfishness and devotion to the safety and comfort of fellowmen.

Michigan Week's Hospitality Day May 26—will be the day of honor for Manistique and Scandia, with Engadine, Gould City and Naubinway being honored Friday night in Engadine.

An example of the hospitality the communities showed: Engadine, with a population of 300, made room for 500 travelers caught in the storm.

Herman's Snow At 200 Inches

HERMAN (AP) — This tiny hamlet in the western Upper Peninsula got its 200th inch of snow Wednesday morning and now is 96.5 inches shy of the regional snowfall record for areas east of the Rockies.

While Herman may have a long way to go toward the record, the townspeople probably could bear the load—200 inches of snow is a mild winter in these parts.

Easter Island in the Pacific is so-named because it was discovered on Easter Sunday in 1722, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Obituary

DAVID LABUMBARD

Funeral services for David O. Labumbard were held at 9 a.m. today at All Saints Church in Gladstone with Rev. Frederick Karlheim officiating. Burial was in Fernwood Cemetery. Pallbearers were Oscar Willette, Ernest Tiberghien, Harvey Groleau, W. A. Moore, Joseph Depuydt and Alphonse Dementier.

New Mexico produces graphite, guano, meerschaum, peanuts, petrified wood and potash.

Briefly Told

George Gill, 19, of 1401 N. 16th St., Escanaba, was ticketed by State Police for violation of the basic speed law after his car ran off U. S. 2 and 41 in Wells Township at 7:45 a. m. Wednesday. Troopers said he lost control after passing another car and struck several mailboxes. He was not injured. Troopers also ticketed Alvin Thounie, Munising, no registration or proof of insurance.

Walter L. Tang Dies Wednesday

Walter L. Tang, 86, of 1307 Wisconsin Ave., died at 11:05 p.m. Wednesday at St. Francis Hospital where he had been a patient for two days following a heart attack.

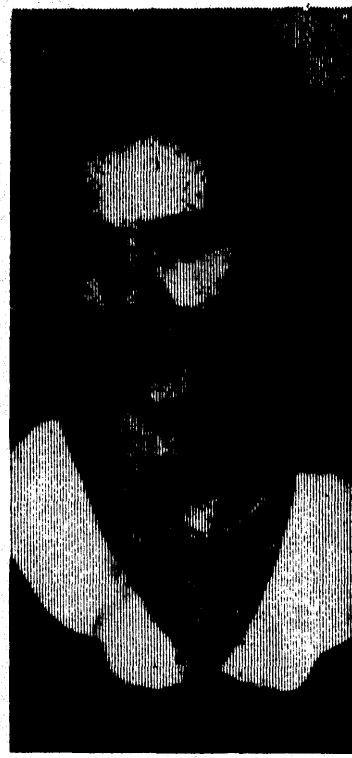

Mr. Tang was born Feb. 14, 1900, in Gladstone, where he resided all of his life.

He was proprietor of Tang's Color Headquarters, interior decorating establishment.

Surviving are his wife, the former Erna Feldt, a son, Earl of Bellwood, Ill.; his mother, Mrs. Samuel Tang of Miami; a brother, Harold, of Escanaba; four sisters, Mrs. J. M. Marcos, Mrs. Jack Fitzgerald and Mrs. Al Spanholz all of Miami and Mrs. Carl Anderson of Geneva, Ill., and two grandchildren.

He was a member of First Lutheran Church and the Gladstone Lions Club in which he had a perfect attendance of over 20 years, the Gladstone Lodge of the F. & A. M., the Escanaba Commandary, the Knights Templar and Ahmed Temple of Marquette, the Delta Shrine Club, Swedish Club, Gladstone Yacht Club and Brotherhood of First Lutheran Church.

The body was taken to the Anderson-Johns Funeral Home where friends may call after 4 p.m. Friday. The churchmen's requiem will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Masonic services at 8 p.m. The body will be removed to First Lutheran Church at 10:30 a.m. Saturday where services will be conducted at 11 a.m. with Rev. Clifford Carlson officiating. Burial will be in the family lot in Fernwood Cemetery.

REV. AND MRS. Dana M. Austin of Gladstone announce the marriage of their daughter, Yvonne Ruth, to Robert Orville Thyr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thyr of Onamia, Minn., which took place in St. Paul. The bride is a 1962 graduate of Gladstone High School, attended Bay de Noc College two years, and has been employed as secretary at the Electronic Computer Programming Institute in Minneapolis. Mr. Thyr, who graduated from North High in Minneapolis, attended Glendale City College, served in the United States Army, and is employed with the Red River Grain Company. They are making their home at 121 South Eleventh Street in Minneapolis. A reception for the couple will be held Saturday evening, Jan. 28th, at 7:30, at the First Baptist Church in Gladstone.

State To Prohibit Parking On 2-41 Near Rapid River

LANSING — A no-parking zone for a short distance on U. S. 2 and 41 in Delta County near Rapid River was announced today by the State Highway Commission.

Studies made by the Highway Department and State Police showed that shoulder parking at three locations—a Roadside Park, a bus stop and at the intersection of US-2 and Brampton Rd. — are causing congestion and limiting the use of US-2 to through traffic.

State Highway Director Howard E. Hill and State Police Director Frederick E. Davids signed a joint order prohibiting parking on US-2 from the east leg of US-41 west for a distance of four-tenths of a mile. It will be put into effect as soon as no-parking signs are installed.

Romney Praises Ohio's Building Authority Plan

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney flew to Cleveland Wednesday to confer with Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes on "Mutual problems" and left with high praise for Rhodes' plan for an Ohio Building Authority.

Both Romney, who has been mentioned prominently as a possible Republican presidential nominee in 1968, and Rhodes, who also has been mentioned as a potential national GOP candidate, denied that politics played a major part in their discussion.

He called the building authority plan, which now is before the Ohio Legislature, the "broadest approach anyone has taken to solving capital building programs."

Then he talked about his own approach to the financing of various projects, saying he is setting up a capital expenditure committee to study financing. Both governors indicated they share the feeling that state governments should play a more important role in helping local communities solve their problems.

The Holy Name Crusader wrestling team, getting its feet wet in the sport for the first time this season, picked up 13 points in a dual meet against Kingsford this week. . . . Dick Gorench registered a decision over his Flivver foe in the 145-pound class. . . . The other points came on forfeits.

Dane Dominiel, former two sport star at Iron River High School, is seeing steady action as a freshman on the Michigan Tech varsity basketball team. . . . Dominiel scored 37 points in reserve action during six games, hitting 52 percent of his field goal attempts. . . . Dominiel was an All-U.P. Class B first team choice as a quarterback in football and a forward in basketball in his senior season at Iron River.

McNeill's Oilers, a crack softball outfit in the summer months, turn their talents to basketball during the winter. . . . The Oilers recently captured the championship of the East Side Basketball Association at Crystal Falls with a 110-79 victory over the All-Stars with Bob Mattson winning the league scoring crown with 151 points in six games.

One of the sneakers at the recognition banquet for Dave Menders at Kingsford High School Monday night will be Vince Carillot, defensive backfield coach under Duffy Daurcherty at Michigan State. . . . The dinner is being sponsored by the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Jaycees.

A survey conducted by Gary L. Burley, Menominee High School principal, reveals that Gwinns High School ranks first in the Upper Peninsula in salaries paid for coaching services. . . . The head football job at Gwinns pays $950 and the head basketball position $900, in addition to regular teaching salaries. . . . Some other coaching salaries listed in the survey include $800 in basketball and $500 in football at Marquette, $600 for basketball and $500 for football at Iron Mountain, $500 for each sport at Kingsford, $750 for football and $475 for basketball at Munising, $660 in each sport at Newberry, $700 in each sport at Iron River, $500 in each sport at Escanaba and the same at Marinette.

Kingsford, Escanaba's Great Northern Conference foe here Friday night, registered its fourth victory of the season against Stambaugh, 70-63. . . . Jeff Franzen led the Flivver attack with 34 points. . . . Kingsford competes in both the Great Northern Conference and the Menominee Range circuit in basketball and football.

Clemente Joins Select Circle; Gets 100 Grand

By The Associated Press
Roberto Clemente has joined the select group of $100,000 a year major league baseball players.

The National League's Most Valuable Player in 1966 signed Wednesday to play again for the Pittsburgh Pirates, who are expected by many to win the 1967 pennant.

Eddie Mathews, recently traded to Houston by Atlanta, signed a reported $50,000 contract with the Astros in another star signing Wednesday.

Clemente, a hard-hitting outfielder with a lifetime average of .310, said he had "no problems whatsoever" in agreeing on terms with Joe L. Brown, the Pirate general manager.

Clemente said only that he got a raise, but a Pittsburgh spokesman indicated $100,000 would be about right making Clemente the highest paid player in Pirate history.

Other players in the $100,000 class include Frank Robinson of Baltimore, Joe DiMaggio and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox, Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, Hank Aaron of Atlanta and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals.

DiMaggio, Williams, Koufax and Musial are retired.

The most Babe Ruth, the famed home run slugger, ever received in one year from the Yankees was $80,000 in the pre-inflation era of more than 30 years ago.

Mathews, a veteran third baseman who hopes to reach the career plateau of 500 homers this season, became the highest paid player in the six-year history of the Astros. He reported $50,000 compares to the previous Astro high of $42,000 to Nellie Fox in 1964.

"I feel I should break $11 this year," Mathews said at the signing. He currently is tied with Lou Gehrig for sixth place at 483 on the all-time home run list.

NEW YORK (AP) — They won't be able to tell the players without a scorecard at the Millrose Games tonight. Or with one either.

Last-minute withdrawals, substitutions and changes have been rampant for the traditional meet, which opens New York's indoor track season.

Ron Clarke, the Australian long-distance star, canceled out of the two-mile and took his flu attack home with him. John Rambo, coholder of the indoor high jump record, scratched because of a leg injury. And Ted Nelson, who won the 800 here last year, pulled out, saying merely that he isn't in top condition.

These and other late changes left Millrose director Fred Schmertz scrambling to fill events for the meet, in which Bob Seagren's attempt to extend his own pole vault record and the duel between Charlie Greene and Bill Gaines in the 60-yard dash figure to be the highlights.

Other late withdrawals were Sebsibe Mammo of Ethiopia and Colby College (pulled tendon) and John Cammen of the NYAC (groin infection) from the mile; Dave Crook of San Francisco's 48er Track Club (virus) from the 600; and Dave Ellis who pulled out of the 2-mile because he can't take time away from his job as a tax assessor in Toronto.

In addition, the St. John's and Army two-mile relay teams deserted the field, claiming illness to two runners on each squad.

Last-minute replacements were Ode Burrell, of the 48er

Army Inducts Pete Gogolak

FORT DIX, N.J. (AP) — Pete Gogolak, believed to have prompted the merger of the National and American football leagues by forsaking Buffalo of the AFL for New York of the NFL, now is leaving the Giants — for the Army.

The Hungarian-born place-kicker was inducted into military service Wednesday at Fort Dix and apparently will be lost for the 1967 season. He could be available for weekend kicking if he stays at Fort Dix.

Gogolak, 24, failed his physical tests last summer because of a childhood spinal injury. The government, however, has since relaxed physical requirements, and Gogolak passed the second test.

Gogolak left the Bills of the then rival AFL at the end of the 1965 season. Many felt his departure brought to a head the struggle between the leagues by opening the possibility of player raids. The merger followed a short time later.

Gogolak, who attended Cornell, and his younger brother, Charley, who attended Princeton, first stepped into the national spotlight by setting collegiate field goal and extra point records with their revolutionary soccer-style kicking methods. Charley now plays for the Washington Redskins of the NFL.

Both fled with their parents from Hungary after the 1956 revolution put down by the Russians.

John Rambo, coholder of the indoor high jump record, scratched because of a leg injury. And Ted Nelson, who won the 800 here last year, pulled out, saying merely that he isn't in top condition.

These and other late changes left Millrose director Fred Schmertz scrambling to fill events for the meet, in which Bob Seagren's attempt to extend his own pole vault record and the duel between Charlie Greene and Bill Gaines in the 60-yard dash figure to be the highlights.

Other late withdrawals were Sebsibe Mammo of Ethiopia and Colby College (pulled tendon) and John Cammen of the NYAC (groin infection) from the mile; Dave Crook of San Francisco's 48er Track Club (virus) from the 600; and Dave Ellis who pulled out of the 2-mile because he can't take time away from his job as a tax assessor in Toronto.

In addition, the St. John's and Army two-mile relay teams deserted the field, claiming illness to two runners on each squad.

Escanaba Chalet For Tech

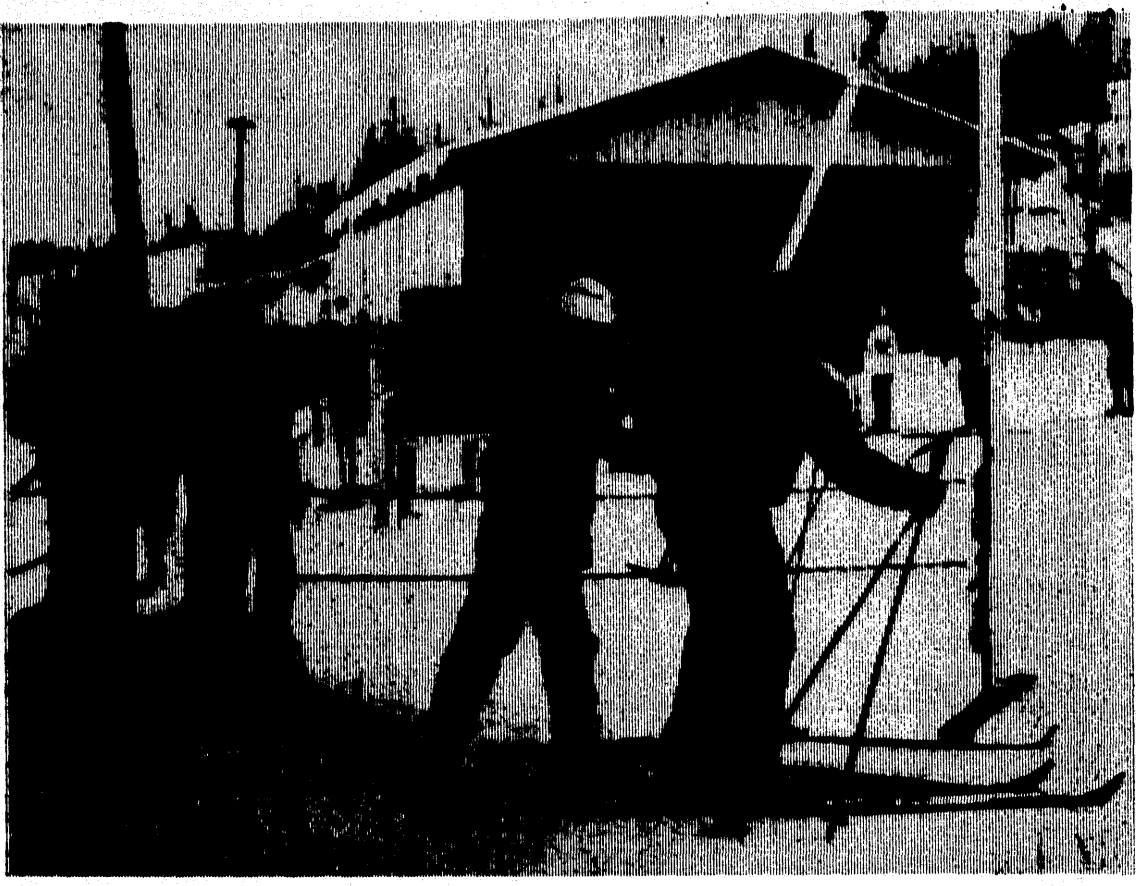

HOUGHTON — Michigan Tech will hold a brief dedication ceremony Friday for a new chalet and ski hill improvements at the University's Mont Ripley ski area.

Those who have taken special interest in improvement of Mont Ripley have been invited to meet at noon in the new chalet. Michigan Tech President R. L. Smith and John H. Warden of Houghton will speak briefly. Warden, chairman of the board of the Upper Peninsula Power Co., is chairman of the Copper Country Citizens Committee to assist Michigan Tech. Following this meeting, there will be a ribbon cutting at the chalet's main entrance.

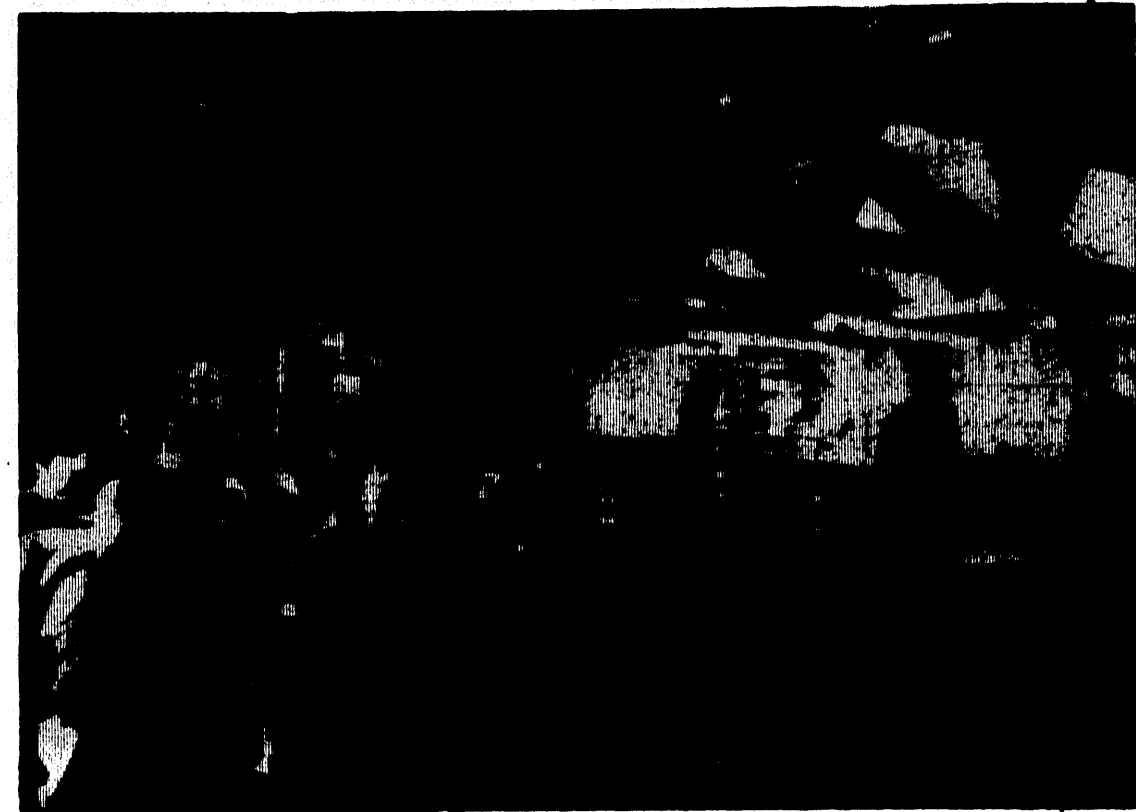

The new chalet was completed and furnished this season at a cost of $62,900. Rustic in motif, the two-story structure is of northern white cedar from the Upper Peninsula and features over 4,600 square feet of space. It has a ski equipment rental area, dining facilities and an observation area with large picture windows. The chalet was custom made for the project by American Timber Homes, Inc., of Escanaba.

The new T-bar, costing $57,600, greatly increases the hill's skiing capacity by supplementing the two older rope tows.

Other work on slope and trail improvements totalled $4,500 bringing the total of new facilities at Mont Ripley to $125,000. This was financed through university loans and involves no state funds.

Northland Nips Michigan Tech

ASHLAND, Wis. (AP)—Bill Schneider scored 34 points, grabbed 28 rebounds and converted a three-point play with two seconds remaining to pace Northland to a 75-72 basketball victory over Michigan Tech Wednesday night.

Craig Farrell led Michigan Tech with 19.

Tech held a 44-40 margin at the half.

Tom Miller, 190-pound half-back from West Allis, Wis., led Dartmouth's freshman football team in scoring with four touchdowns in five games last fall.

Guidelines For Distinguishing Boys From Girls

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals today is trying to distinguish between the sexes.

In a world of increasing conformity, even persons of the opposite sex don't look so opposite anymore. In fact, their resemblance to each other in both looks and behavior is so uncanny that it is confusing to both psychiatrists and headwaiters.

More and more the sexes dress alike, talk alike, and cut their hair alike.

It is even getting difficult to tell the sexes apart by their names or nicknames.

Suppose you hear there's going to be a party, and the guest list includes Leslie, Kim, Chris, Tony, Pat and Jerry. Does that mean there will be six girls, six boys, or any combination of both?

The fact is that it is almost as big a problem today to differentiate between the sexes as it is to distinguish, on sight, between a Republican and a Democrat.

Simple Tests

There are, however, still ways it can be done. And here is a tentative guide for the perplexed.

If it scowls when you say "yes, sir" to it, it is probably a her. If it punches you in the nose when you say "yes, ma'am" to it, it is indubitably a him.

Does it like to scratch itself in public? Put it down as male. Does it always seem to be plucking at its clothing to pick off invisible pieces of lint. Put it down as female.

While bawling you out, does it turn its eyes upward to the ceiling? It's a woman. While criticizing you, does it look embarrassed out the window? It's a man.

If it has a button off its topcoat, it is a husband. If it starts asking questions about why the button is missing, it is a wife.

Is It Worthwhile?

Does it like to brag about how hard it worked in its youth during the Coolidge administration? It is a middle-aged man. Does it look coy and pretend it can't remember that far back? It is a middle-aged woman.

Does it like to collect for good causes in its neighborhood so that it can see how the other homes are furnished? That's the wife. Does it say, "I already gave at the office"? That's the husband.

Does it continuously ask, "Do you really love me?" It's a her. If it can never think up any answer to that question — except "Yeah, why not?" — it's a him.

Yes, there are still many ways in which to tell the sexes apart. The only remaining problem is: How much longer will it be worthwhile?

Sports In Brief

PETOSKEY (AP)—The 15th annual Northern Michigan Speed Skating Championships will be held at Petoskey's Winter Sports Park Feb. 4-5. Ed White, meet director, predicted there would be 200 competitors and possibly 1,000 spectators.

ALMONT (AP)—Funeral services for Tom Roberts, 31, Almont High School basketball coach for the past three years, will be held here Friday. He died Tuesday night after a lengthy illness. A graduate of Michigan State, Roberts is survived by his wife, Betty, and three children. He formerly coached at Ellsworth High School.

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's hockey team, in sixth place in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association, meets seventh-place Minnesota-Duluth Friday and Saturday at Duluth. MSU has a 4-7-1 league record. The Bulldogs have a 3-8-0 mark.

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Sterken scored 35 points as Detroit College of Business gained an early lead and held on to nip Michigan Lutheran 89-88 in basketball Wednesday night. Leroy Haywood fired in 26 points for Lutheran, now 11-8. Detroit College is 12-2.

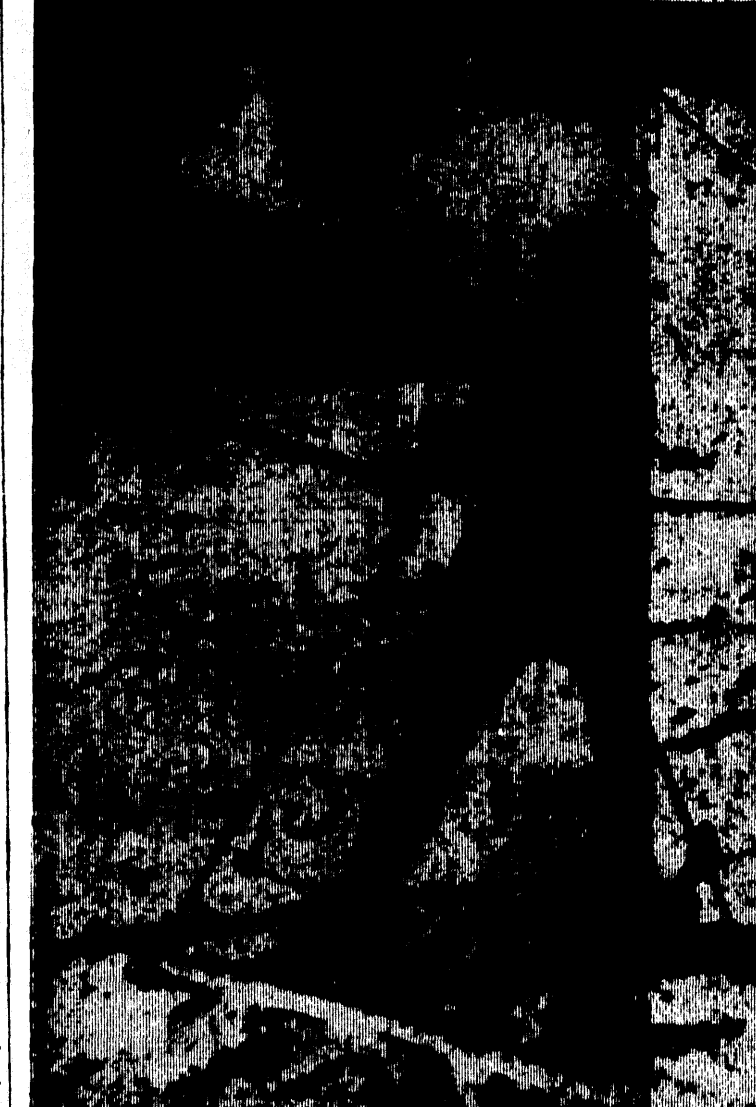

Huskies Trip Colorado Six

HOUGHTON (AP)—Michigan Tech got two goals from Wayne Weller in a 6-2 victory over Colorado College in Western Collegiate Hockey Association action Wednesday night.

A fantastic performance by CC goalie Don Gale, who made 41 saves—many of them acrobatically—prevented a complete rout of the visitors.

Michigan Tech moved from fourth to third place in the conference with the victory, which made its league record 5-3-1.

Al Karlander, Bob Marshall, Gary Milroy and John Haines also scored for Tech. John Genz and Wayne Nelson scored for Colorado.

JOHN EDWARDS, left, and John McGraw, two friends of Finlan, show off their limits of coho (silver) salmon. These and the king salmon were taken while fishing in Bristol Bay in Alaska.

THIS 52-POUND king (chinook) salmon gave Bill Finlan his biggest battle — nearly three hours in the pouring rain. He put the fish in the freezer at camp until the rains left and then had this picture taken.

Finlan Forecasts Thrills

King Salmon Bonanza Seen

By BILL FINLAN

Talk of salmon—big salmon—in the Great Lakes has stirred this writer's fishing blood. And it looks like the stir might produce dividends from a couple of huge lakes that have retired more would-be fishermen than chambers of commerce would care to admit.

I watched Russ Robertson, manager of the Marquette Fish Hatchery, and his men haul away millions of small coho salmon to be planted in the Big Hiron River last spring and heard them talk about how soon it would be before we could start planning on catching mature silvers for whatever reason we choose to catch fish.

Year-Round Occupation

The plants of cohos, or silvers, have been very successful in the state, especially in the downstate side of Lake Michigan. And now there is much talk about the shipment of king salmon eggs transported here from out west. The Michigan Conservation Department forecasts success with the kings, too. Being an Escanaba native, my young life was spent near the mouth of the beautiful Escanaba River fishing walleyes, northerns, perch, bass and anything that cared to take a crack at my lures. Ice fishing off the mouth of the river in winter and smelt dipping in spring made fishing a year-round occupation for me.

Saved From Retirement

The gradual disappearance of the fish didn't squelch my yen for the water and a crowded creel. But how patient can one get? Frequent "skunkings" leave you thinking about other pursuits. The armed forces and college saved me from fishing retirement.

While in college, I spent three entire summer vacations working for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service on Alaska's Bristol Bay, which leads me to the point of this story. They have fish in Bristol Bay, mister.

600 Pounds A Day

The fish that I enjoyed most at the end of a line or on the table were called silver or coho salmon and chinook or king salmon. Sound familiar? I've had the pleasure—pure pleasure—of catching hundreds of both species as a sport fisherman in my spare time. I've caught and released as much as 600 pounds of salmon in a single day.

Both species head for the streams at spawning time, and that is when you get out your gear. It just might be feasible that we will be able to extend the fishing territory to the "outside" in the Great Lakes because the fish will be locatable, whereas in the ocean, you can forget about them when it isn't time to migrate upstream.

They Really Go Wild

We discovered that the silver goes for the crippled herring gimmick. Some sort of a silver-colored lure can be thrown upstream and then brought at an angle down stream in front of the fish, and he will do the rest.

You don't simply hook and haul the silver. They really scrap and will clear the water often trying to get free. They average five to eight pounds, and once in a while you land one that has waited an extra year to spawn and he will give you a battle. The "heroes" who have sworn off anything heavier than a two-pound test unit can look forward to losing some gear to the bigger silvers.

In the "gear wrecking" class, are the kings or chinook salmon. The males or "jacks" will fool the beginner when there are silvers around, because they have many similar characteristics, including size. But I think the "jacks" put up a little better fight, especially in the air. They really go wild at the end of a line. But the real trophy we can look forward to, if the conservation department plans go well, is the female chinook, which the veterans refer to as the real "king."

Author's Biggest Trophy

She usually weighs about 20 pounds, but if she waits another year, or two, or even three, she could weigh as much as 70 to 100 pounds. The author's biggest trophy weighed 52 pounds, and was 50 inches long.

The king is usually interested in only one thing—getting to her spawning grounds to complete her destiny. You seem to have to get her "angry" before she will show any interest in you lures. More often than not, you can bounce the lure off her back, and she won't so much as wiggle a fin.

Jumps And Sulks

But when you get her to grab the bait, you had better be ready to let her have some line. She will take to the air like her smaller brothers, leaping, twisting and diving, or she will skin the surface with her dorsal fin flying and your line singing. You can practically forget about turning a 52-pounder until she is ready to turn.

You will be further discouraged when she heads for the bottom to "sulk." The troubled lady will put her nose on bottom and her tail up at about 30 or 40 degrees and there she will stay until she is ready to take off again. You will have to wait her out, unless you are using "deep-sea" fishing gear.

Need Running Room

After the "sulking" you will expect her to be slowed down, but nothing doing. She will race off up or down stream with you after her. If you are on shore, you will need some running room. If you are in a boat, be sure to have the anchor hauled. The author battled the 52-pounder nearly three hours on 15-pound casting gear.

One excitement about fishing the kings is that you can usually see them in the water before you start casting for them, because of their reddish color developed as they near the spawning areas. They often hang eddies where the current is slow. Sometimes they stay there for a week before they move on upstream. Others are in a hurry and don't linger at all. It is hard work to get their attention, but it is worth it.

Delicious Fresh And Smoked
What about having them on the table? I guess I prefer salmon steak with lemon and all the other essentials to any other fish food, especially when they are fresh. Smoked silvers are delicious, too.

The excitement of knowing that these fish might be made to thrive in our area moved me to tell you what you might expect.

I hope it isn't premature to think about future fishing trips for salmon in the Great Lakes.

Personally, I can't wait to get my first sight of two fishermen in a small boat with a big king on each of their lines.

Production Off

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Crop Reporting Service estimates the state's 1966 milk production at 53324 billion pounds, off six per cent from the previous year.

Bay College To Give Selective Service Test

The Selective Service College Qualification test is to be given at Bay de Noc Community College on Saturday, April 8. The College Test Center code number is Q329. This number is not in the Bulletin of Information. Young men are reminded that their applications must be postmarked no later than Friday, Feb. 10.

Change of test centers or examination dates may be obtained by a written request addressed to Selective Service

Examining Section, Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 988, Princeton, N. J. 08540. Bay de Noc Community College originally was not included as a center because less than 100 applicants were tested in the November College Qualifying Exams. However, as a service to the young men of the area, the College gained approval for the April 8 test date.
